U. S. FLAG IS DESECRATED HERE

Legion Men Make Midnight Visit And Rescue Old Glory

The United States flag has been disgraced in Richmond.
The Star Spangled Banner has been put to the uses of a janitor.
The red, white and blue fabric—symbol of liberty, honor, and freedom, has been soiled, polluted, prostituted.
Last night Commander Tom M. Carlson, Burt Stuart, and the news editor of the Record-Herald rescued a large American flag from its dirty surroundings on the second floor of the new T. & D. Theater, on Macdonald avenue.
The actual work of reclaiming the flag was conducted by "Casey" Carlson, the live-wire commander of the Richmond Post of the American Legion.
The flag was wet and dirty and was crumpled up and placed with two canvas jumpers and a pair of old trousers.
The action followed an announcement made to the American Legion last night by Hugh Selvy, who informed the Legionnaires that he had seen what he thought was your flag, my flag, flapping its bedraggled folds from an opening in the unfinished T. & D. Theater.
Something akin to an indignation meeting was held on the floor, in which each Legionnaire clamored to be heard.
Commander Carlson appointed a committee to investigate this morning, and to take such action as to them seemed meet and proper.
When Carlson informed the news editor of this paper of the matter, the newspaper man suggested that the time to act was immediately. The suggestion was acceded to without argument.
You have the answer.
Shades of Washington, Lincoln and Betsy Ross defend us!

The Legion men are righteously indignant at what they construe as an affront and an insult to every decent American citizen.
It is not known who is responsible for this outrage.
The contractors building the new T. & D. Theater are Inar & Peterson.
The flag is hanging in the window of the Record-Herald office, and the public are invited to have a view of it.
It obviously had been employed as a mop rag to clean floors and windows!
But come and have a look.
And was it for this that boys and men gave their blood to warm the poppies in Flanders Field?
And was it for this that the United States hurled her hosts and her fortunes into the field of honor?
Was it for this that tens of thousands of Americans gave their bodies as cannon fodder to Hun artillery?
God forbid!

Two hundred members of the American Legion and ex-service men assembled last night and enjoyed the bright and sparkling program which the committee had provided for them.
Commander T. M. Carlson discussed with illuminating intelligence the features of the adjusted compensation or so-called "bonus" measures which are proposed for the benefit of the ex-service men. Carlson went thoroughly into the ramifications of the bills proposed. He had hoped to secure a speaker from San Francisco, but failing in this, he explained the bill as it stands before the Congress today.
There were not enough seats to hold the boys. Many had to stand.
It is estimated that one-half at least of the fellows present are ex-service men not members of the American Legion.
Good smokes were passed around. The committee in charge of the dance, Oakland, was D. J. Gross, Tazewell, J. E. Smalley and Joe Sturm. Sturm furnished the jazz on the piano.
MR. R. H. WOODS SUFFERS A RELAPSE
Mrs. R. H. Woods, who has been with the flu at her home in the Carroll apartments, has recently suffered a relapse. Her many friends hope for her rapid recovery.

Ladies' Auxiliary American Legion To Entertain Legion
Ladies' Auxiliary of the American Legion met last evening in Musicians' hall and extended an invitation to the American Legion for a get-together meeting to be held on Friday evening, March 24. The Legion accepted the invitation. No effort will be spared by the Auxiliary to make the get-together meeting a successful event. The meeting will consist of an entertainment and a dance and will be arranged by a committee consisting of Mrs. Alice Rietzschneider, chairman; assisted by Mrs. Clara Berry and Mrs. Nina Vickery. All legionnaires and their families, ex-service men and all those eligible to the auxiliary are welcome to attend.
After the meeting last night a female feed and whist party was enjoyed by the members of the Auxiliary. The winners of the whist games were as follows: First prize, Mrs. Nina Vickery; second prize, Mrs. C. F. Donnelly; and consolation prize, Mrs. Mary Purviance.

WATER SUPPLY BUILDERS ADD OF RICHMOND ENDORSEMENT TALKED ABOUT TO CAMPAIGN IN OAKLAND FOR HOMES

Water. Supply, source, cost and distribution.
These things all engaged the attention of the delegates from nine cities of the East Bay who attended a conference held in Oakland yesterday at the invitation of Mayor John L. Davis.
Mayor R. J. Garrard and City Attorney D. J. Hall of this city represented Richmond.
The special committee submitted a report in which the nine cities seem to undertake to "sponsor, advocate and urge" the formation of a municipal utilities district.
The cities pledge themselves to be "hands off" on the question of the Water Power Act proposed as an amendment to the constitution.
"The association will take no part in the selection of a source," says one paragraph in the report.
Richmond business firms and individual consumers will go slow in entering into an organization which may contain cities and interests whose needs might run counter to hers in this important question of water.
Budget to Be Kevolved
Also, the idea was advanced of naming competent men to aid in formulating a budget by which persons and firms and corporations who may be expected to share largely in the benefits accruing from the undertaking may have the cost of the enterprise equally apportioned.
Members Endorse Individually
Not only did the Exchange, as such, go on record favoring the campaign, but each member present individually endorsed the plan.
The Contra Costa Builders' Exchange is said to be the first in California to take definite favorable action.

GRANT P. T. A. HOLD ELECTION

The regular election of officers for the Grant Parent-Teachers' Association was held yesterday afternoon. In spite of the inclement weather a large number turned out for the meeting. The officers who were elected will take office at the beginning of the fall term. Those who will lead the P. T. A. for the coming term are: President, Hazel Waldorf; vice president, Mrs. W. V. Kelts; secretary, Mrs. G. E. Milnes; recording secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Leonard Cole; historian, Mrs. A. B. Ledgerwood; auditor, Mrs. Mary B. Kinnear.
Mrs. K. A. Cole was elected delegate to the Federation of Parent-Teachers' Associations at Petaluma April 25 and 26. She will also attend the National Convention at San Diego in May.

Pt. Richmond Boy Scout Meeting

Twenty-two members of the Point Richmond troop of Boy Scouts turned out to the weekly meeting held last evening in Firemen's Hall. After an inspection of the troop several wrestling matches were held. Tickets for the boy scout moving picture show to be held on Tuesday evening, March 21, are to be placed on sale next Monday. The show is to be given for the benefit of boy scout fund.

P. O. Box Rent Increase April 1

The Richmond post office announces an increase in box rent, effective April 1. Acting on orders from Washington Postmaster James E. Long will inaugurate the new rates. The small boxes will cost 75 cents a quarter, the medium size will cost $1 and the large size $1.50.

"Governor May Be Passing The Buck On Jap Question" Says Local Head, Native Sons

The article which appeared in the March issue of the Grizzly Bear, official publication of Native Sons and of the Native Daughters of the Golden West and which said "California cannot stand another four years of Governor Stephens and Attorney General Webb" and which the Record-Herald reproduced seems to have stirred up something akin to the proverbial "hornet's nest."
Managing Editor Clarence M. Hunt yesterday stated that he will welcome any inquiry which may be conducted into the publication of the offending paragraph.
Sticks to Position
"The Grizzly Bear has been waging a strong fight to have the anti-alien land law enforced," said Hunt, "and has repeatedly called to the attention of state officials responsible their apparent negligence in the matter. The question is not a political one, but a matter of economics, and I see nothing in the advice I gave the readers of the paper to register and be prepared to vote against these delinquent officials."

Local Man Talks

"No, Richmond Parlor, No. 217, Native Sons of the Golden West General Webb."

CITY ZONING ORDINANCE TO BE DISCUSSED AT LUNCHEON

The zoning ordinance will be one of the subjects of discussion at the general citizens meeting to be held by the Richmond Industrial Commission at Martin's Grill at 12 o'clock Wednesday next.
City Manager James A. McVittie and other officials have been specially asked to attend and explain the effect of certain features of the proposed zoning ordinance. That portion in regard to the sections where industries may locate is deemed of particular concern, as much damage to the city's growth might result from an unwise law on this subject.
Over in San Francisco there have been some great rows over the zoning law. The Board of Supervisors has had weeks of acrimonious discussion over the matter of the proposed erection of an apartment house on a certain corner on Pacific Heights.

COUNTY TAXES $47.29 PER CAPITA

Your taxes total $47.29 for the year 1921-1922.
That is to say, your theoretical taxes amount to just that.
That is the per capita tax for State Controller Ray L. Riley.
That is the per capita tax for Contra Costa County.

Marin, just across the bay, has a per capita of $33.52; Solano, across the Straits, has a per capita tax of $27.45; Napa, a bit further up, pays $34.93. Even San Francisco, the big county, pays only $41.04. And Alameda trails along with $36.36. Sonoma county pays $39.83.

There are some "highmen" fourteen in fact. And you can dope out the number of those that are lower.
According to Riley the tax levy includes the general county levy of $1,436,851.38 and a special and district county levy of $667,436.48. The balance is made up of taxes for the city of Antioch, amounting to $18,213.08; Concord, $7,094.49; El Cerrito $30,887.01; Hercules, $7,111.31; Martinez, $77,962.91; Pinole, $2,055.56; Pittsburg, $35,526.35; Richmond, $471,810.22; Walnut Creek, $3,707.49.

Booze Taken In Bay Point Raid

In a raid last night in Bay Point on what is known as the Engel Hotel officers led by District Attorney A. B. Tinning and Sheriff R. R. Yeake arrested two men and one woman on charges of residing in a house of ill fame and confiscated a small barrel, two jugs and numerous bottles of liquor. Those under arrest are Frank Condas, alleged proprietor of the establishment, Spiras Turnas and Elsie May Walsh.

RICHMOND LIONS ORGANIZE MERCED

Several members of the Richmond Den of Lions went to Merced yesterday to be present at the organization of a den in that city.
The organization in the San Joaquin valley city came about through efforts of two former Richmondites, and members of the local den, E. J. Crandall and Taylor Johnston.

The Merced Den was organized with just two dozen members. The meeting was held at Hotel El Capitán, and a generous luncheon was served the visitors, each of whom loudly praised the hospitality of the new club.

The Richmond contingent left here at 7:30 o'clock Friday morning, and were back at 7:30 last night. They made the trip by automobile, those in the party being Claude Clark, A. C. Paris, J. O. Ford, Clinton B. Smith, J. I. Collins, Ward McRacken, Harvey Clear, Harold Purviance, Clarence Ford, Zeb Knott, J. P. Strom, Carl Richard, G. F. Oberland and E. L. Davis.
There were Lions present from Fresno and Madera.

Man Falls On Car Steps and Is Hurt

J. Gerneshausen suffered painful cuts to his face when he fell on the steps of a Key Route street car inbound from Oakland at Stego Junction last evening about 8 o'clock. He was given first aid by Dr. U. S. Abbott at Abbott's Emergency hospital where two stitches were taken to repair his hurt.

Pythian Sisters Enjoy Dancing

Despite inclement weather conditions the dance given last evening by the Richmond Temple, No. 86, of Pythian Sisters proved to be a wonderful success and was well attended. The affair was given for the benefit of the Pythian Home Fund and was held in Pythian Castle. The music was furnished by Chick Barry's orchestra. The committee in charge of the dance consisted of Maude Ripley, chairman; Myrtle Lutz, Ida Hunt, Mae McVassers, Sara Chaney and Rose Parker.

Will Contest To Test Sanity of Richmond Woman

A protracted legal battle to determine the sanity of Mrs. Henrietta Pierce Watkinson, former Richmond resident, and owner of much Contra Costa property, at the time she made her will begins in Judge Dunne's court in San Francisco next Tuesday.
The will, bearing date of March 9, 1919, distributed an estate of $2,800,000 with a lavish hand among friends, relatives, employees and household servants. It cut off two cousins, Louis Pierce and William Pierce, with $35 each. They are now contesting to break the testament.

Milnes; piano solo by Mrs. Charles St. John; voice solo by Mrs. Rose Calfee; piano solo by Miss Azalea Sanford; two vocal numbers by Wesley church choir; vocal solo by Mrs. Burke Calfee, vocal solo by Mrs. Carter Johnson.

SATURDAY SUMMARY

If there is any one thing in this world we do not like a little bit it is the sour-visaged pessimist that is always digging into manure piles looking for manure. All pessimists ought to be put out of their misery by some painless process, such as driving a spike into the top of their heads, where the brains ought to be, but ain't. If the pessimists had their way we would all evolve back again into monkeys and worms and things like that. Two of them stopped us on the street yesterday, to inquire about the gold mine we and a bunch of Richmond men are opening up in Sierra county, and we told them that Superintendent Weldon reported that he was already taking out gold ore of some value, although in the ledge, but a short distance as yet, and that as two other mines, adjoining us on the same ledge and right up against us on both sides, had struck it rich, we had faith and belief that we would do the same when depth and development had been attained. They assured us that we might not strike it rich, even though these on both sides of us on the same vein had. This is a possibility, but not a probability, and we informed them that they might not ever reach their homes alive, as a brick might drop off some building and cave their heads in. It is a cinch that California would not be producing $23,000,000 in gold each year, much more than any other state, if the men who produce it had gone upon the theory that they might, not strike it rich. They went on the theory that they might, and consequently did. This is true with everything in life. The pessimist and grouchy predicts a storm, while the optimist, admitting that there may be a storm, contends that there may also be considerable sunshine and pleasant weather. If the Edisons, the Fultons, the Belis, the Wrights and many others who have given to the world the great and grand inventions they did, out of which millions have got rich and billions have enjoyed comfort and convenience, with the steamboats, railroad trains, telegraph, telephone, aeroplanes, and other things, had been pessimists instead of optimists, we would all be plodding along in darkness and ignorance today. It is the man who goes ahead and does the things which the croaking frogs and ravens say cannot be done, that give to the world and themselves riches and pleasure, while the jaundiced-eyed prophet of gloom and failure waffles along through fog and never gets anywhere or produces anything but indigestion and torpid liver. The two men we have mentioned here have not done a lick of work in years, that we know of, and how they manage to live and eat is a mystery—probably off of someone who believes that things can be done, that the sun is going to shine, that spring and summer, with flowers and fruit and grain, will follow in the footsteps of the frosts and rains of winter. If you are looking for trouble and gloom and hell, you may always find it, and the reverse is also true. If you look for work, thrift, enterprise, gladness and prosperity, you can find that, also, but you can't find it by sitting down and howling at the moon, groaning and moaning, and proclaiming that there is ten devils and no God.

The dispatches state that the editors at Taft, down in the oil fields, have received warnings from the Night Riders. The best thing for the editors to do is to load up a few sawed-off shotguns with buckshot, and the first Night Rider that shows up fill him so full of little round holes that his breakfast will leak out. We ran into several such things back in Western Kansas in the early bleeding days, one at the town of Glen Elder, where two hundred men came into the office to wreck it, over a political campaign. When they went out they took the whole glass front with them, the door being too small for rapid exit. Every man that wears a mask is a coward. Any man that is not a coward is not afraid for people to see his face, and know who he is. Anybody need not be afraid of a coward. He generally breaks his fool neck running unless he has a crowd of other cowards with him, and if somebody yells Boo at them they all run.

And speaking of looking for pleasant things instead of the reverse, we note that the head of the U. S. Shipping Board said this week that there are wondrous good times ahead for the whole Pacific coast. That means us, and, incidentally, he knows what he is talking about, whereas, many croakers do not. Commissioner Meyer Lissner said in Washington that this was to be the great trading route of the future, and that the Pacific Coast ports would be the first to feel and benefit by the big revival of world trade now setting in. This means lots of business in the future for Richmond's harbor and wharves and warehouses.

Fifty students of the University of California at Berkeley are being disciplined for being drunk at a fete recently given. It is a sad commentary on modern life when our young boys like those cannot refrain from making beasts of themselves. Any youth getting drunk deserves to be expelled from the College. Incidentally, what is your honest opinion of a set of men who will sell liquor to young boys?—What ought to be done to them? The average bootlegger is a dirty dog that ought to be behind stone walls. And if any of them want to argue that with this department, they needn't hesitate a minute.

Dispatches this week from all over the world, and especially from all parts of America, indicate that real prosperity and progress is arriving and that business of all kinds is on the upgrade. The acute depression we have been going through during the past two years was necessary, and has been wholesome and salutary. During the war boom we all got so swelled up our clothes didn't fit, and we went on a silk shirt and purple sock debauch that could not do otherwise than end us up with a busthead, same as any other kind of a drunk does. We simply had to get back to hardpan, and now, having had our chastening, we are all in a condition to get down to work and brass tacks once again. By conducting ourselves sensibly, energetically, patiently and industrially we will bring about good conditions and the sun of prosperity will shine for all of us who deserve its genial warmth.

The Native Sons are out after the scalps of Governor Stephens, Attorney General Webb and others of the commission form of misgovernment in this state. We can see where they are right. Of all the monstrosities that ever a peaceable people were cursed with, the innumerable blue-sky grafters and swivel-chair tax-eaters of California are the worst. Under them our state taxation, per capita, has rolled up to such an enormous figure that it is the largest in the United States today, except one, Pennsylvania. If ever a good cleaning up was needed it is right now, and it is to be hoped this fall will see it brought about. A whole lot of these mutts who are drawing down immense salaries they do not earn think they are second editions to Czar Nicholas and Kaiser Bill.

We went out to the municipal wharf a day or two ago, to see what Jackson Miser was doing out there, and found him as busy as a white leghorn in a new garden. He has a gang of men putting big rock in place as a foundation and breakwater, and another gang is building the annex to the big wharf building, and it looks quite like business out there. The big Government dredger has shown up from Seattle and in a few more days will be busy at work dredging out the harbor channel. The first mud and clay that comes out will go on the lowlands of the tract bought by Proctor & Gamble, so they can build their factory units upon it as soon as it settles and dries. Now that the industrial depression is beginning to look up and get better, they are ready to proceed with their plans for establishing a monster big plant at Richmond, but nobody can blame them for waiting a while during the shaky times the country has been going through for the past couple of years. That was only good business, and we would all have done the same had we been them. Now, however, the industrial skies are clearing and we can look for some big things to begin along the Richmond waterfront.

The women who urged the City Council not to grant any more licenses to alleged and so-called soft drink places in Richmond were just exactly right. There are a hundred too many of those camouflaged saloons doing business here right now, and two-thirds of them ought to be put out of business. They are not only selling booze but they are manufacturing it, and it is the vilest poison that any human ever killed his system, mind and health with. The ordinances should be changed at once to limit the number of such sinkholes of iniquity that are to be allowed to come in here and break the law and kill off the population. Every low-browed scion of the rotten kingdoms over the seas that can rake up a wheelbarrow load of soda pop and a keg of wood alcohol is heading for Richmond, and it is high time that sort of thing was headed off.

Word comes from the Secretary of the Navy and from Congressman Curry also, that work is to go on at Vallejo, Maro Island and also on the naval base at Alameda, which means millions and lots more work for all of us around this bay. Those who were croaking about all that were hollering before they were hurt, and bucking before they were spurred. Nobody can stop the good times now heading in this direction.

OVERLAND PRICE CUT STARTLING

A deep reduction in prices of Overland and Willys-Knight cars, announced by officials of the Willys-Overland Company, has created a sensation.

The new price of the powerful, easy riding Overland touring car, which by sheer merit of economy, quality and comfort has attained a dominant place in the light car field, is $550. One year ago this car sold for $1035.

This is an additional reduction since the reduction of 42 per cent recorded from September, 1920, to September, 1921, a total reduction of 47 per cent in a year and a half, the most radical reduction in motor car prices in the history of the automobile industry.

In 1916 the Overland sold for $615, a price that was thought could never be bettered. Today it is $550 lower.

The Willys-Knight touring car is now listed at $1375, a further reduction of $150 since the startling reduction of 34 per cent made last September, a total reduction of 40 per cent in a year and a half.

These new prices were made possible by remarkable economies in manufacturing methods, the consumption of high-priced material inventories, the practical total elimination of obligations for high-priced materials, the operation of a new, more progressive and more economical marketing plan, and lastly, the hearty co-operation in the plan to build more cars per man each day, by every employee in the four plants the company operates.

These new prices place Overland and Willys-Knight cars in the front price rank in their classes. For the past year and a half, the records of these cars have proved their economy, quality, performance and comfort.

The new prices and those of September 1920 follow:

Overland chassis $450, formerly $885; touring, $550, formerly $1035; roadster, $550, formerly $1035; coupe, $850, formerly $1525; sedan, $895, formerly $1675.

Willys-Knight roadster, $1350, formerly $2300; touring, $1375, formerly $2300; coupe, $1875, formerly $2950; sedan, $2095, formerly $3050; chassis, $1100. All prices are f.o.b. Toledo.

The powerful, easy-riding Overland offers many advantages: economy of operation, triple springs, insuring easy riding; three speed and reverse selective transmission of heat-treated nickel-alloy steel gears; timken bearings; all-steel body, baked enamel finish, spring base of 130 inches as against wheelbase of 100 inches, 31 foot turning radius, 27 horse power motor; electric starter, lights and horn, etc.

The Willys-Knight car, built of the highest grade materials, stands apart from the great majority of

DO YOU KNOW WHY --- The Pig Mascot Fad Isn't Such a Useless Fad After All?

Drawn for this paper By Frank Leet

Gloria Is Gorgeous In "Under The Lash" at T. & D.

Gloria Swanson's second Paramount star picture, "Under the Lash," at the Richmond T. & D. Theater today is an engaging dramatic production. It is a drama of human emotions and a most unusual story is presented by a group of interesting character portrayals.

In the cast are genuine artists, such as many celebrated feminine screen stars, Russell Simpson, Lillian Leighton, Lincoln Steadman, Theda Bara and Clarence Ford.

The picture is an adaptation of the novel, "The Shulamite," by Alice and Claude Askew and the subsequent stage version by Edward Knoblock and Claude Askew. J. E. Nash wrote the scenario.

phone, has done excellent work in his direction of this photoplay. J. E. Nash did the continuity.

Miss Swanson's work in this picture provides an extreme contrast to anything she has ever done heretofore. Miss Swanson plays the subdued wife of a stern, fanatical farmer of the South African veldt. She wears no lavish gowns to accentuate her natural beauty, but is as beautiful and effective as ever despite the sordidness of her surroundings.

The picture is a colorful portrayal of life on the South African veldt. It is a most unusual and gripping love story, and it sparkles with suspense and breathless heart interest.

Ex-Army Surgeon Tells Hi Boys How To "Keep Fit"

The High school boys were very fortunate yesterday in hearing Dr. J. S. Mason speak for the Y. M. C. A. on "Keeping Fit." A. is anxious to assist in any way possible to help the boys of Richmond have the best bodies possible and minds as well as to help them live as close to their religion as they can.

Physical examinations have been given by the "Y" the past week and boys can be examined next week also.

Spring Hikers Revise Plans

To look at Martha her roommate knew that she was weeping and walling inwardly. Something must have happened and Martha's roommate wanted to help.

"Oh," said Martha disconsolately, "I am crushed with sorrow. What do you think I did while you were away over Sunday? I went over to the beach for a walk with Louise and it was such a lovely day we decided to hike around Land's End. We climbed over wet rocks and over muddy paths and got wet and messy. And I simply ruined my one and only suit that I planned to use for good for ages. The skirt was too narrow and I ripped it jumping from a rock. What shall I do?"

"Well, you silly thing! The next time you and Louise go hiking you had better wear some old clothes. But now since you have ruined the best suit you own, I would advise you to visit Cherry's at 515 13th street and get something stunning for dress up. You know you can buy on credit there and you can practically arrange for your own payments. Not much down, you know, and the remainder on easy terms."

Cherry's store for men is at 515 13th street. And there are just a few of those $10 overcoats left. Advertisement.

Ladies! Look Young, Darken Gray Hair

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe and nobody can tell. Brush it through hair.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two its natural color is restored, and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

Storm Country Polly

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I.—Occupying a dilapidated shack in the Bluff City, a squatter settlement near Itasca, New York, Polly Hopkins lives with her father, small Jerry, and an old woman, Granny Hope. On an adjacent farm, Oscar Bennett, prosperous farmer, is a neighbor. He is secretly married to Evelyn Robertson, supposedly wealthy girl of the neighborhood. Polly alone knows their secret. Marcus MacKenzie, who owns the ground the squatters occupy, is their determined enemy. Polly overheard a conversation between MacKenzie and a stranger, in which the former avows his intention of driving the squatters from his land. The stranger sympathizes with the squatters, and earns Polly's gratitude.

CHAPTER II.—Evelyn Robertson discovers from her mother that they are not rich, as she supposed, but practically lying on the bounty of Robert Percival, Evelyn's cousin.

CHAPTER III.—Polly learns from Evelyn that the sympathetic stranger is Robert Percival. Evelyn charges Polly with a message to Bennett, telling him she can give him no more money, and urging him to be patient. She already bitterly regrets her infatuation with and marriage to the ignorant farmer.

CHAPTER IV.—Polly conveys her message, and Oscar makes threats. The sister Evelyn meets him that night. Polly has her father and Larry Bishop, a squatter who has suffered from the cruelty of MacKenzie, take an oath to do him no injury.

CHAPTER V.—Evelyn unsuccessfully tries to get money from her mother with which to buy out Bennett and induce him to leave the country, giving her her freedom. She is really enamored of Marcus MacKenzie. At the arranged meeting that night Bennett threatens Evelyn with exposure unless she procures money for him.

CHAPTER VI.—Polly meets Robert Percival, and they are mutually attracted. Polly's feeling being something like adoration.

CHAPTER VII.—Overhearing a conversation between Polly and Robert Percival, Bennett, really caring nothing for Polly, and fancying himself in love with her, waylays the girl when she leaves with Percival and abuses and threatens her. Percival returns and tells the farmer. He asks Polly in what way he can aid her and she begs him to help the squatters. Percival is rich and influential, though lacking the power of MacKenzie, but agrees to do his best. MacKenzie visits the latter, through Hopkins, to leave the vicinity, offering him a bribe of money. The offer is refused and MacKenzie threatens to burn their pitiful dwellings and leave them homeless.

CHAPTER VIII.—Polly visits Percival in the Robertson home in an effort to enlist his aid, and he is on the point of declaring his love for her, when the girl, in a public place, MacKenzie asks Evelyn to be his wife. The girl agrees to marry him after he has bought the Bennett farm and got rid of the squatters. Robert falls in an effort to secure the aid of Mrs. Robertson and Evelyn in a plot to help the silent city people.

CHAPTER IX.—Knowing Bennett's infatuation for Polly, Evelyn tries to induce the girl to promise to marry him, he having agreed to release Evelyn to secure Polly. In love with Percival, though scarcely realizing it, the girl refuses. Meeting Robert next day, he tells her he loves her, and she acknowledges a similar feeling for him. MacKenzie lays a trap for Hopkins and the latter is arrested.

CHAPTER X.—Polly goes to the Robertson home to enlist Percival's aid, freeing her father. MacKenzie jeers at her. He is also deaf to Robert's pleadings, and the latter, though assuring Polly of all the help he can give her, feels himself powerless.

CHAPTER XI.—A week later Polly, alone during a heavy winter storm with her little brother and Granny Hope, has a visit from Evelyn. She tells Polly something has "struck" Oscar. The two women carry him from the road into the shack. He is bleeding. Polly runs out to get a doctor. She meets Percival, who tells her he is here on his way to see small Jerry. She instructs that Bennett see her, since the girl, true to a promise, has not denied it. He conducts Evelyn and her husband to a rooming house, and she denounces Polly for her duplicity. Bennett dies and Evelyn is free.

CHAPTER XII.—Polly borrows a dress from Evelyn and with Jerry tries to beat her way on a train to Auburn prison to visit her father. She is discovered by MacKenzie and Percival. Evelyn is with them and declares having given the dress to Polly, who is accused of stealing it. Percival takes her home, disgraced.

CHAPTER XIII.—Evelyn and MacKenzie are married. Determined to oust the squatters, MacKenzie sends his lawyer Jerry from Polly, intending to place him in an institution. Polly's heart is broken. She swears to have revenge.

To be sure her escape had been at the expense of Polly's reputation. She regretted the necessity but reasoned that a good name could not be much of a loss to a squatter.

"Of course I couldn't do that," she returned sharply. "Why—why should you want—"

The squatter girl's gaze lifted to the speaker's face, and tears welled over the fringed lids. Then Evelyn read the truth, and her eyes glinted and narrowed.

"Merciful heavens, you're in love with my cousin!" she exclaimed. "Is that what you mean?"

The brown head fell forward, and a flame-hot face was hidden in the chestnut curls.

"And he loves you, too," cried Evelyn, in disbelief. "What a fool I was not to discover that before! How perfectly awful! That's what has been the matter with him for months."

She watched Polly's arm and shook her head.

played him and go seek at the corners of her lovely mouth. The steady blue glint faded from her eyes, leaving them the color of heavenly tints. She was certain her secret was as safe in the breast of Polly Hopkins as it was in the heart of the dead Oscar.

"You shall see your father," she said, dropping her hand, "and you can have any dress I have to wear. Come up tonight, at seven. The folks will be at dinner; and I'll slip out and bring you in."

Then she went away, leaving Polly Hopkins at last plunged into the depths of despair when she thought of Robert Percival and singing with gladness over the joy in store for Wee Jerry and Daddy Hopkins.

It was still broad day when Polly Hopkins left Wee Jerry playing by the water's edge with some squatter youngsters and started for the Robertson home. True to her word, Evelyn met her in the grape arbor at seven and hastily led her up the back stairs to her bedroom.

"There are the closets," she said, "Take anything you like, Polly, but hurry. The cook's in the kitchen, and the other maids are busy. I'll go down for four someone will come to find me. There's the dinner gong."

Once alone in the beautiful room, Polly's gaze swept its broad dimensions. It did not occur to her to covet the least of these gorgeous surroundings. She only wanted something to wear to Auburn, something to celebrate her visit and to Daddy Hopkins' proud. She swung open a closet door and peered in.

The sound of laughter somewhere in the house sent a wave of terror over her. She snatched at the first gown under her hand, rolled it into a bundle and fled down the stairs. Until she was in the lane again, she did not breathe easily.

Once back in the shanty, Polly hid the dress beneath her bed without even daring to look at it. How Evelyn was to arrange the visit to Auburn, she did not know, but of one thing she was sure, she had a beautiful dress to wear.

After she had put the child to bed, and the door was securely locked, Polly drew the curtains tightly over the small windows. Even the corners of the room lost their shadows; and "The Greatest Mother in the World" seemed to stand out more plainly than even when the sun shone.

Polly placed her warm cheek against the picture and smiled. She earnestly believed this wonder-mother was helping her to go and see Daddy Hopkins. She turned and looked longingly at the sick little man, then upward to the woman's face.

"You've done so much for me and Jerry, ma'am," she whispered. "Maybe sometime you'd make—him—smile just once at me."

Then she took the bundle from under her cot and spread out her treasure. It was a delicate shimmering silk, and in it was the color of the sun just before he sailed over the western hill on his journey around the earth. There could not be such another beautiful gown in all the world, Polly thought. Then she slowly slipped from her own ragged dress and stopped a moment, contemplating Daddy Hopkins' big boots. Even to Polly's primitive mind they did not seem to be just the thing to wear with such a dress. So the boots, too, came off.

As if she had been handling eggs, she drew on the beautiful robe, her bare neck and forearms gleaming white in the candlelight.

Then back and forth she walked, entranced with its voluptuous loveliness. But twist and turn as best she might,

As If She Had Been Wandering Eggs She Drew on the Beautiful Robe Her Bare Neck and Forearms Gleaming

"A Man's Home" At The Macdonald Proves Pleasing

Immensely pleased audiences glimpsed the domestic conflict that goes endlessly on in certain types of American homes while witnessing the presentation of "A Man's Home" at the Macdonald theater yesterday when this fine, big and convincing screen drama began a two-day engagement with Harry T. Morey, Kathryn Williams, Grace Valentine, Roland Bottomley, Matt Moore, F. L. Binney and Margaret Seiden, constituting what is really a hand-picked cast.

"A Man's Home" is no preachment—although for those who would heed it carries a useful warning of shoals that frequently remain uncharted in the water of domesticity. The husband, for instance, thinks more of his business than he does of his wife. Realizing this the wife finds pleasure where her money can buy it—and hubby opens his purse without stint. "My husband lets me do anything I wish, so long as I do not bother him," says the wife—and it's the things she wants to do that lead to nearly all the pain on the good ship "home" being scraped off against an ugly shoal that has all the time been threatening the smooth course of domestic navigation.

"A Man's Home" is one of the season's really big pictures—not big in mobs, and extras, and carpenter work—but big in its intensity of action, its climaxes and gripping scenes and big in the talents that center in an efficiency.

"Six Weeks Ago I Wanted to Jump Into the Bay, But Now I Feel Like a Different Person"

So declared Mrs. Armour, restored to good health by taking the Kong Wah Herb Tea, after suffering a long period of sickness. Her testimonial reads:

Oakland, Calif., Dec. 26, 1921.
To Whom It May Concern:
My stomach, kidneys and liver were in bad condition and my blood was poor. The lower part of my body pained me awfully, so that I could hardly lie on either side and sleep. My bowels were hard to move and painful. I treated with other doctors and medicines but it did not seem to do me much good. Finally my sister urged me to take the Kong Wah Herb Tea. Soon I began to feel better. After taking them for six weeks I feel like a new woman. I have gained many pounds, and am feeling normal in every way. I would recommend anyone to take the Kong Wah Herbs for any ailment, for I know others also have benefited by taking their Herbs for various ailments.

If Back Hurts Use Salts for Kidneys

Eat less meat if kidneys feel like lead or bladder bothers you—Meat forms uric acid

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatism twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, make a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulates them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless! Inexpensive! makes a delightful effervescent drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications. A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

ENGINEERS WIN BOWLING TROPHY

The Engineers did it. They did the thing that the Record-Herald predicted, and won the J. P. Smith silver cup in the finals played last night at Levy's Bowling Alleys by the Standard Oil Bowling Association. The Engineers' score was 13,563.

Labor won second honors, and therefore takes the bronze cup offered by Herman Levy. Their score was 13,472. Refinery "showed" with a total of 13,415, and take the silver cup, also offered by Herman Levy.

The Refined Filling came fourth with 13,182, the Yields fifth with 13,013 and Garage finished at the bottom with 12,211.

The tournament has attracted unusual interest, and has brought out conspicuously the prowess of local bowlers. It also has shown what a magnet for sports lovers a good bowling alley will prove.

Last night's individual star was Van, of the Labor team, who topped the totals with 640 points. Labor's total last night exceeded that of the winners, but they could not overcome the lead established at earlier bouts.

The awards probably will be made at the first picnic of the season by the Standard Oil Company, given by the Rod and Gun Club in May.

The scores follow:

Sulphur Clears up
Rough or Red Skin

Face, Neck and Arms Easily Made
Smooth, Says Specialist

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation begins at once to soothe irritated skin and heal eruptions such as rash, pimples and ring worms.

It seldom fails to remove the torment and disfigurement, and you do not have to wait for relief from embarrassment. Improvement quickly shows. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Mentho-Sulphur from any good drugist and use it like cold cream.

Hi Students Give Rainbow Dance

The students of the Richmond High school entertained last evening with a rainbow dance which was well attended in spite of the stormy weather. The ballroom was very artistically decorated in rainbow colors and palms. The dance was the first formal affair of the season. The decorating committee consisted of Al Wilson, chairman, Helen Axelsson, Frank Freck, Fred Pietrich, John Varney, William Burke, and John Frankie. The cleanup committee was composed of B. Wells, chairman; Lloyd Jackson, Loren Whitlock, R. Koehler, Lyndon Siple, Paul Harris and Ted Malliane comprised the punch committee.

Kong Wah Herb Co. Opens Big Offices On Telegraph Ave.

Kong Wah, formerly with Fong Wan Herb Co., has opened up offices at 2781 Telegraph ave., and extends an invitation to all of his Richmond friends to call on him. Wah is quoted as one of the best posted herbalists in the Bay region. He has made a thorough study of all Chinese herbs. "The science of herb medicine has been practiced in China for thousands of years," says Wah, "and the fact has prompted the Chinese to specialize on herbs."

Wah and his specialist friends have invested about $20,000 in different kinds of herbs, all having been imported from China.

These specialists make a thorough study of the patient, learn the exact nature of the illness, and apply the herb that nature has meant for the unhealthy condition.
